

Leadership Development mini-workshops – Leadership “Next Steps”

1 September (pm) – London      2 September (pm) – Leicester
6 September (pm) – Bath      8 September (pm) – Liverpool

How do we build, consolidate and sustain our sense of leadership in times of challenge and change?

This new half day workshop is designed to build on previous MLA leadership development workshops and will provide you with insights into the challenges and opportunities inherent in leading teams, projects and organisations through times of change.

This creative and challenging afternoon workshop, commissioned by MLA, is offered free of charge and has been specifically designed to meet the diverse needs of people working in this sector.

It will focus on key themes of contemporary leadership in the cultural sector including the ideas of passion, curiosity, insight, courage and resilience. Each workshop will also include a clear “manifesto” action planning tool.

Although this workshop is designed to be a clear progression for participants in last year’s leadership development programme, it will also be useful for you if you are an emerging leader looking for more ideas and support in your leadership practice.

With new materials and content, this workshop will provoke in-depth and challenging discussion combined with practical skills and ideas to take away.

To apply for a place on a workshop, contact cpd@mla.gov.uk or for more information please ring 020 7549 1715.

“...a new insight into how I work and why I do things the way I do - very powerful stuff!!”

"Creative space to be stimulated, challenged, supported and supportive - a valuable investment in time for me"
